JUDGE JOHN PAUL, sitting at Abingdon on Monday granted an injunction in a novel postoffice muddle in Montgomery county. The owners of land in the vicinity of Pilot postoffice declined to rent or sell a site for postoffice purposes to Postmaster W. Thomas Payne, a recent appointee of the McKin-ley administration. To meet the emergency, the postmaster procured an omnibus which he located on the public highway and proceeded to open business on Uncle San. s account. B. M. Guerrant sued out a writ of unlawful detainer in the County Court and placed it in the hands of a deputy sheriff for execution. The Federal Court was appealed to, and Judge Paul issued a temporary injunction restraining Guerrant and the deputy sheriff from hindering or interfering with the postmaster in any way in reference to his omnibus postoffice, which is located on a post road of court to show cause why the porary injunction should not be perpetuated.—Rockingham Regis-
